CALL FOR PAPERS

SECOL, founded in 1969, is the oldest regional linguistic association in the United States. The 89th SECOL meeting is hosted by Louisiana State University (Baton Rouge). We invite papers from all subdisciplines, striving for diversity and inclusion in our field.

THEME: DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION IN LINGUISTICS

Plenary speaker: Tracey L. Weldon
“Middle-class African American English and the Language of Double Consciousness: A Personal Account”

We invite the following submissions:

- Abstracts of research papers for 20-minute presentations, up to 300 words, excluding title, tables, references.
- Proposals for 90-min panels, with a main panel abstract up to 500 words along with 300-word individual paper abstracts.

Electronic submissions open on October 21, 2021, managed through Easy Abstracts, at <http://linguistlist.org/easyabs/SECOL89>. All submissions must be received by January 21, 2022 (11:59 pm, EST).

Authors may submit up to two abstracts, one individual and one joint. Abstracts will undergo double-blind review, so author names should not appear anywhere on abstracts. Papers on any topic in linguistics, in either English or Spanish, are welcome.

Questions may be addressed to the local hosts at secol2022@gmail.com.
